

SIBERIAN HUSKY WHITEPAPER

WHAT IS SHUSKY?

Siberian Husky ($SHUSKY) is a decentralized ERC-20 token, born during the meme/dog token frenzy. However, community members have come together to make SHUSKY something more than just another dog token.

Details on the plans for the ecosystem, marketing, and the future of SHUSKY itself are discussed throughout this document, in hopes to give both current and future holders clear, transparent information.

SHUSKY token is designed to be a deflationary store of value. Here's some detailed information on the tokenomics.

- 50% was burned to Vitalik Buterin
- 50% was deposited into liquidity on uniswap
- 2% reflection on all transactions
- LP tokens and contract ownership burned
- Clean audit by Callisto

There is no central authority for SHUSKY. There is no contract owner. Core team members are no other than holders that saw value in a deflationary token, with massive potential for growth. Siberian Husky belongs, solely, to the individuals that hold it. The nature of a decentralized ERC-20 token is that of an undeniable right to exchange. SHUSKY represents both the choices of the individual, and that of the community, working together for cooperative benefit

A SHUSKY FUTURE

The future of SHUSKY token is to expand into a novel ecosystem. This ecosystem will consist of the original SHUSKY contract, and three new contracts:

1. "SHUSKY HOUSE". - DAPP
2. "Siberian Puppy (PUPSKY)". - ERC-20
3. "PUPSKY SINK". - ERC-721/NFT

The deployment and integration of these new contracts will allow for more interaction with the native token (SHUSKY), and also allow for more exposure through a second token (PUPSKY). PUPSKY's usecase will be that of interacting with the third contract, a NFT contract with limited supply.

Optional interaction with SHUSKY HOUSE will also allow for a small fraction of volume (1%) to be reserved for both marketing, and charitable purposes.

In order to guarantee permanent ecosystem access, we will be looking forward to deploy the website, and app, to a decentralized network and host. This will be the final key in making SHUSKY into an immutable, unstoppable monster of a token.

Information on the three new contracts is detailed on the following pages, along with plans for the long-term future of SHUSKY and its ecosystem.

SHUSKY HOUSE

SHUSKY HOUSE is a decentralized application, or DAPP, that will be a place to house your SHUSKY. Inspired by the ritual abandonment of Siberian Huskies around the world, and the organizations that help Huskies in need to find a safe shelter, SHUSKY HOUSE aims to provide a safe place for your tokens, while also helping these organizations.

Users will be able to lock their SHUSKY inside of the DAPP securely. They will be allowed to select an amount of time for their SHUSKY to be locked for.

- Vault DAPP for SHUSKY
- Choose number of tokens to lock
- Choose amount of time for lock
- Receive PUPSKY (1 PUPSKY per 100,000,000 SHUSKY per week)
- Withdraw SHUSKY after lock period ends

PUPSKY

One incentive for locking your tokens will be the grant of PUPSKY, in relation to the token count, and time length of the chosen lock. PUPSKY will be a token with speculative value relative to the overall SHUSKY ecosystem.

This is not quite staking, and there will be none of the impermanent losses incurred with typical staking liquidity pools.

A second incentive to lock up your own tokens, would be to prevent yourself from selling too early. How many times have you sold a token, only to regret your decision as it moons weeks, months, or years later? No more.

Last but not least, the third incentive will be a limited set of NFTs that will act as a sink for PUPSKY tokens.

Up to 1% of minted PUPSKY will be sent to an address to concern with both marketing of SHUSKY and PUPSKY, and for donations to organizations that further the cause of neglected and abandoned huskies everywhere around the world.

NFTs

One final piece of the Siberian Husky ecosystem will be a limited set of SHUSKY NFTs, for purchase with PUPSKY. 9,999 generative NFTs of varying rarity are planned. (Subject to change)

This will act as a sink for both the inflationary PUPSKY, and the deflationary SHUSKY. The tokenomics of both will be affected by one another, and this token sink. We believe that this has potential for a positive impact on price and holder count.

This facet of the ecosystem is in its infancy stages. More info will be released when the plans are more solid. Expect a future PUPSKY NFT whitepaper.

THE HAND-OFF

I am Serec Thunderson, leader of the core team behind SHUSKY, and this has been my plan for the revival of SHUSKY. I did not create SHUSKY. Nobody else on the team did. This was created and advertised as a community token, and as such, the community has taken over it.

I have not been alone. I have been surrounded by dearest friends. So many people are credit for the ideas and direction of this token. My role up to this point, has been unfortunately as a dictator of sorts. I have done my best to manage expectations and keep the scope of our projects reasonable, and achievable.

The nature of decentralized finance is not meant to be dictatorial, and for this reason, I will begin my withdrawal as tyrant, following the completion of the vision as we have laid out. This is not an end to SHUSKY development, and the growth of the ecosystem. It will be an unshackling that will allow the platform more room to breathe and grow to new magnitudes, lead by the community itself.
